

Deakin Week in Colombo
Learn · Develop · Achieve

Guest Lecture: Postgraduate studies in humanities and social sciences

Deakin University, Australia, invites you to an information session about postgraduate courses offered by the School of Humanities and Social Sciences.

If you are interested in studying a postgraduate degree in the areas of international relations, museum studies, humanitarian assistance, community development, politics, and more, then this session is for you.

Session details

Date: Wednesday 4 July 2018

Time: 3.00pm – 5.00pm

Location: Angsana Room,
Cinnamon Grand Hotel
77 Galle Road,
Colombo

REGISTER HERE

About this session

Health and social sciences can allow you to develop the critical thinking skills and cultural awareness needed to succeed in many jobs today. From cultural heritage and museum studies to international relations and community development, discover how your curiosity and creativity can be used to pursue a career in a number of exciting areas.

This session will provide an overview of the following Deakin degrees:

- Master of Arts (International Relations)
- Master of Cultural Heritage and Museum Studies
- Master of Humanitarian Assistance
- Master of International and Community Development
- Master of Politics and Policy Studies.

The session is for those who are interested in completing postgraduate study in humanities and social sciences.

Speaker

Dr Cai Wilkinson,
Associate Head of School
(International and Partnerships),
School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Faculty of Arts and Education, Deakin University.

Dr Wilkinson has led development of work-integrated learning programs for students both in Australia and overseas, and successfully facilitated more than 100 international internship placements. She has extensive experience and expertise in supporting students to reflect and make connections between their studies and developing the skills required by employers, as well as in teaching intercultural competence. Dr Wilkinson has also worked with humanitarian managers as a coach to develop their leadership potential and designed a wide range of learning experiences for students to help them become career-ready. Originally from the UK, Dr Wilkinson holds a PhD in Eurasian Studies, an MA in Russian and East European Studies and a BA (Hons) Russian from the University of Birmingham. She is a Fellow of the Higher Education Academy.

Deakin Week in Colombo

About Deakin's School of Humanities and Social Sciences

Through Deakin's School of Humanities and Social Sciences (SHSS) you will learn how societies function in local and global settings and about the forces and events shaping our world.

Our courses stay relevant and lead to excellent career outcomes, thanks to the key industry representatives who sit on our advisory boards. They offer direction on curriculum based on what's affecting industry now and in the future.

And through these connections, a number of internships are available to humanities and social sciences students, providing work experience and networking opportunities before you graduate.

Many of our teaching staff have extensive experience working in industry. They are active in the media and conduct important research, making a positive impact in Australia and around the world – and helping you learn from the very best.

About Deakin University

A high-quality education, excellent employment prospects and a university experience you will love – that's what Deakin has to offer.

Deakin University, Australia, is ranked in the Top 1% of universities worldwide (ShanghaiRankings), and is among the top 50 young universities in the world (QS, Times Higher Education).

Our degrees are world-class and we are on an impressive upward trajectory in global subject rankings. Deakin is ranked in the Top 1% in 23 study areas, including business, computer science, education, law, medicine, nursing, public health, and more.

Deakin's approach to learning places emphasis on practical experience and our curriculum is informed by the best in industry. Whatever the degree, industry placements give students the opportunity to apply their knowledge and explore their career options. And through our unique DeakinTALENT services students will connect directly with employers, and get opportunities and tools to build their experience and prepare for their graduate job search.

Deakin has four modern, fully-equipped campuses and an innovative online learning environment (Cloud Campus). We have invested in the latest technology, state-of-the-art learning tools and facilities to ensure our students are equipped with the skills and knowledge required for the jobs of tomorrow.

But we offer more than just a quality Australian degree. Students can get involved through more than 150 clubs and societies, or make use of Deakin's wide range of student support services.

You don't just study a degree at Deakin – you get a life-changing experience while investing in your career.

To learn more about Deakin, the programs we offer and our research efforts, visit our website at deakin.edu.au/srilanka.